BINTOO — BUILT FOR THE NEXT MARKET SHIFT

Markets are moving toward digital ownership, decentralized technology, sustainability-linked finance and borderless communities.

Bintoo aims to participate in this transition by bringing multiple digital-economy themes into one ecosystem.

WHY CARBON CREDITS MATTER

Carbon credits create a market mechanism for supporting verified emissions-reduction or removal activities.

Why the market matters:

Businesses face increasing pressure to measure and reduce emissions.

Climate commitments are increasing across countries and industries.

Carbon markets can channel capital toward qualifying climate projects.

Transparent digital infrastructure may improve tracking and participation.

Bintoo's sustainability narrative should focus on ecosystem participation and opportunities rather than claiming certification of carbon credits unless independently verified.

WHY CARBON TAXATION IS BECOMING A GLOBAL NECESSITY

Carbon taxation places an economic cost on certain greenhouse-gas emissions and is intended to encourage lower-carbon activity.

Global business impact:

- Higher pressure on carbon-intensive operations
- Greater focus on emissions measurement
- New compliance and reporting requirements
- Growing demand for sustainability strategies
- Potential growth of carbon-market infrastructure

BINTOO — BUILDING A GLOBAL DIGITAL ECOSYSTEM

Bintoo brings together several emerging sectors:

Blockchain + Web3 + Digital Assets + Business Networks + AI Research + Sustainability

The objective is to create an ecosystem where technology, users, entrepreneurs and strategic partners can interact through defined digital products and participation models.

Focus: utility, transparency, community and scalable global participation.

THE MARKET OPPORTUNITY —

FINANCE × WEB3 × SUSTAINABILITY

Three major market forces are converging:

1

DIGITAL FINANCE

Increasing adoption of digital assets and blockchain infrastructure.

2

WEB3

New models for ownership, applications, wallets and decentralized participation.

3

SUSTAINABILITY

Increasing demand for emissions reduction, carbon accounting and climate-related initiatives.

A MORE SUSTAINABLE CONNECTED TOMORROW

Bintoo's opportunity is to build at the intersection of these themes.
